STATUTORY DISCLOSURE FOR INSURANCE COVERAGE IN MEXICO

The policy for insurance coverage in Mexico is issued by an Insurance Company in a foreign country. It is important that our clients understand the policy is not regulated by any US Government Agency. We want to assure you the companies we use are the most reputable Insurance Companies in the Republic of Mexico.

Arizona Statute A.R.S. 20-422(C) requires that you be given the following notice:

> "This policy is issued by an insurance company that is not regulated by the Arizona Department of Insurance. The insurance company may not provide claims service and may not be subject to service of process in Arizona. If the insurance company becomes insolvent, insureds or claimants will not be eligible for protection under Arizona law"

The following are some important differences and exceptions found in policies issued for travel in Mexico.

1. Due to recent change to Mexico Liability Law it is now required to carry higher Death Liability limits (depending on each State specific requirement of where the loss occurs). It is understood that all customers can purchase up to $500,000 Combined Single Limit. It is highly recommended that you use the same level of care regarding Mexico Liability limits that you would use when purchasing a US or Canadian auto liability policy. The radical change to Mexico Liability law means that claims for Death Liability in Mexico will now be similar to the damages that are often imposed by courts in the US and Canada in similar cases.
2. If two Americans have an accident in Mexico and wish to file a suit in the US, Mexico's policy will not respond to a liability suit brought to the US. It will only respond in Mexico.
3. Liability for bodily injury sustained by a third party (passengers) in the insured vehicle is not covered. Example: There is no coverage if passengers of the same vehicle sue each other. However, no-fault medical payments coverage for passengers is provided.
4. Damage caused by a person without a valid driver's license or under the influence of alcohol or drugs is not covered.
5. Damage sustained while participating in speed trials or races is not covered.
6. Loss or damage to under-parts of the insured vehicle as a result of overloading or rough roads is not covered.
7. Pilferage or partial theft of parts and/or accessories is not covered. Theft coverage is provided only if the entire vehicle is stolen. Vandalism is also excluded.
8. Unless the declarations page of the policy indicates otherwise there shall be no coverage provided for damage caused by a vehicle towing a trailer or damaged caused by the towed trailer.
9. Coverage for physical damage is not included unless it is purchased and specifically described in the policy. If physical damage coverage is purchased, the form covers collision, overturn, fire, natural phenomenon, glass and total theft. Damage caused by the action of tides is excluded.
10. If you return to the US without an adjuster's report, coverage is void.
11. Daily policies (a policy shorter than a 6 month term) are not eligible for refunds or cancellations after the effective date of the policy. 6 month policies are fully earned, and no refund will be provided if the cancellation is requested more than 20 days after the effective date. Annual policies are fully earned, and no refund will be provided if the cancellation is requested more than 30 days after the effective date. For cancellations requested within 20 days (6 month policies), or 30 days (Annual policies) of the effective date, the pro-rated return premium shall be calculated as follows: The premium shall be divided by 20 (for 6 month policies) or 30 (for annual policies), the result of which is "daily rate" earned. The number of days after the effective date on which the cancellation was requested, multiplied by the "daily rate" equals the "earned premium." The original premium, minus the earned premium, equals the portion of unearned premium that shall be due the customer as a refund. Appropriate taxes will also apply. A cancellation fee equal to half of the Policy Fee will be retained on all cancellations.

This information is provided to help you better understand some major points of Mexican Insurance and does not replace or amend any conditions or limitations in the policy form. Please review the policy form for full details on the conditions and limitations.

Important Reminder: When filing a claim, dial the Claims number exactly as listed. We ask that you make this call yourself, or by a trusted person. Please note our insurance carriers or their designated adjusters will never ask you to pay cash to an injured party at the scene of an accident. Refer to your Claims instructions on your policy, and the terms and conditions.

Medical Evacuation transport services are managed by our preferred provider Air Ambulance Worldwide utilizing a highly accredited network of CAMTS and EURAMI air ambulance providers for your care. Due to the nature of the services, a reasonable period of time and diligence is required to properly initiate a medical evacuation transport. All arrangements made for medical evacuation services must be made and approved through Travel Medevac and its provider. Travel MedEvac is not responsible for any charges or expenses incurred without our prior authorized written approval.
